

Chinese Student Programs

Multimedia Used by Students

- Multimedia lab
- Blogs
- Blackboard
- Computer games teaching tones
- E-stroke software/Chinese typing software
- Online English-Chinese dictionaries
- iBooks (for writing practice)
- E-mail
- Skype
- Digital recorder (to record and store students' speeches for the instructors to grade)
- Chinese iPod and iTalk
- Podcasts
- YouTube videos in Chinese
- Online Chinese songs
- Chinese TV broadcasts
- E-mentoring
- Web research on topics such as the 2008 Beijing Olympics, current events relating to Chinese-speaking cultures, etc.
- Locating online audio and video resources
- Videos/DVDs/Movies, including:
 - Jin, H., Xu, D., & Hargett, J. (2000). China scene: An advanced Chinese multimedia course [DVD]. Boston: Cheng & Tsui.
- Audiotapes and CDs for listening and speaking practice, including:
 - The CD that accompanies the textbook Chinese Link
 - <http://ccat.sas.upenn.edu/plc/chinese> (IC audio tapes)
- IQChinese Go 100/Go 300/Go 600 courseware
- The Web-based Chinese Literacy Project materials at <http://www.chineseliteracy.net>
- Learn Chinese Online
http://www.hanyu.com.cn/en/htm_newlesson/mulu.htm
- Chengo Chinese
<http://Elanguage.cn>
- <http://www.shurl.com/pinyin>
- <http://www.pinyinpractice.com>
- http://www.cma.gov.cn/cma_new/tqyb/
- <http://www.yagole.com.cn/index.php>
- <http://weather.china.com.cn>
- <http://www.mcdonalds.com.cn/>
- <http://rent.focus.cn>
- <http://www.yinyutang.org>
- <http://www.zhongwen.com>
- <http://www.Njstar.com>
- www.cheng-tsui.com "Bringing Asia to the World"

